Each day lasts 4–5 hours, including activities. Total training time: 20–25 hours spread over five days.

How This Course is Different from Other Hotel Management Training Courses:

Unlike many generic hotel management training courses, this program emphasizes leadership, operations, and guest experience in equal measure. It integrates hospitality leadership skills with deep operational knowledge of front office, housekeeping, and food and beverage management course topics. Case studies from leading global hotels, interactive simulations, and real-world problem-solving make it more engaging than traditional lecture-based courses.
