Awareness of Biases & Implicit Racism: Inclusive Practices Training Course

Ref: 103600429_103003 Date: 23 – 27 November 2026 Location: London Fees: 5700 Euro

Course Overview

This training program is designed to help participants recognize, reflect upon, and reduce personal and systemic biases that influence interactions with marginalized communities. The course explores stereotypes, implicit racism, and organizational-level discrimination, equipping professionals with practical strategies to promote dignity, respect, and equity. Through interactive workshops, case studies, and role-play, participants will strengthen their cultural competence and learn how to apply inclusive practices within humanitarian, development, and organizational contexts.

Course Objective

- By completing this program, participants will be able to:
- Define and differentiate explicit vs. implicit bias and describe how stereotypes form.
- Explain mechanisms of implicit racism in institutions and their impact on services.
- Identify personal biases and triggers using guided reflection tools.
- Apply cultural humility to adapt communication across diverse communities.
- Prevent microaggressions and exclusionary behaviors in day-to-day practice.
- Assess policies, procedures, and team dynamics for structural discrimination.
- Propose inclusive reforms and peer-accountability mechanisms within teams.
- Use debiasing strategies and behavior-change techniques in decisions and service delivery.
- Design simple equity indicators and feedback loops for monitoring and evaluation.
- Integrate safeguarding and ethical principles to protect vulnerable groups.

How This Course is Different

Unlike standard diversity or cultural awareness workshops, this training goes deeper by combining personal reflection, organizational analysis, and practical strategies. It uniquely integrates:

Real-world simulations and role-plays that allow participants to practice inclusive responses.

Organizational-level strategies, equipping leaders and HR managers to revise policies, reduce systemic bias, and foster inclusive cultures.

Ethical safeguarding frameworks, ensuring respect and protection for vulnerable and marginalized groups.

Monitoring and evaluation tools for measuring inclusivity and equity within organizations.

This comprehensive approach ensures participants not only recognize biases but also gain actionable skills to transform personal behavior and organizational practices.
