Ref: 372_130546 Date: 17 – 21 May 2027 Location: Munich Fees: 5700 Euro

Overview

Audit Committee Effectiveness and Oversight Training Course is a five-day course for committee members, board secretaries, governance professionals, audit leaders, finance executives, and risk leaders who leave with an Audit Committee Oversight Toolkit. The course connects committee mandate, independence, meetings, information, financial reporting, assurance relationships, internal control, risk oversight, confidential reporting, evaluation, and improvement. Agile Leaders Training Center delivers this course on audit committee effectiveness.

Who Should Attend

- Board committee functions responsible for audit and control oversight
- Board secretariat functions responsible for agendas, papers, minutes, and decisions
- Governance functions responsible for committee mandates and accountability
- Internal audit functions responsible for independent communication with the committee
- Finance and risk functions responsible for presenting oversight information

The course assumes participants support or exercise committee-level oversight and leaves out operational audit testing, financial statement preparation, and director certification.

Departments and Industries

The course supports audit committee oversight across corporate, institutional, and service environments.

- Boards, board secretariats, and governance offices
- Internal audit, external audit liaison, risk, and compliance functions
- Finance, controllership, and financial reporting functions

- Suggested activity: score committee performance and build owned improvement actions and monitoring dates.

FAQs

Who suits audit committee effectiveness, and what does the course assume?

Audit committee effectiveness suits members and professionals who support committee governance, information, assurance relationships, risk and control oversight, meetings, decisions, or evaluation and already work with board-level reporting.

How does audit committee effectiveness differ from internal audit management training?

Audit committee effectiveness focuses on board-level challenge, oversight, assurance relationships, and committee decisions, while internal audit management training focuses on directing the audit function and delivering its work.

What makes an audit committee effective?

An effective audit committee has a defined mandate, appropriate skills and independence, disciplined meetings, decision-useful information, access to assurance providers, tracked actions, constructive challenge, and periodic evaluation.

What information supports audit committee oversight?

Audit committee oversight uses focused information on financial reporting judgments, internal control, material risks, compliance and ethics, internal audit, external audit, investigations, confidential reports, unresolved issues, actions, and emerging concerns.

How is audit committee performance evaluated?

Audit committee performance is evaluated against its mandate, composition, meeting discipline, information quality, challenge, assurance relationships, decision follow-up, stakeholder communication, and progress on improvement actions.

Conclusion

Participants leave with an Audit Committee Oversight Toolkit linking mandate, independence, meetings, reporting, controls, risk, assurance, escalation, evaluation, and improvement. The toolkit changes disconnected committee activities into a traceable oversight cycle. It provides a working basis for challenge, decisions, action tracking, and performance review.
