Ref: 619_147545 Date: 7 – 11 March 2027 Location: Bali Fees: 5700 Euro

Overview

General Counsel Strategy and Legal Function Leadership Course is a five-day advanced course for general counsel, heads of legal, senior in-house counsel, legal operations leaders, and executives who leave with a Legal Function Leadership Plan. Participants connect legal function strategy, matter portfolio prioritization, outside counsel governance, legal operations metrics, and board advisory communication. The course addresses fragmented priorities, resources, decisions, and reporting through a single leadership system. Agile Leaders Training Center presents general counsel leadership as an enterprise management discipline.

Who Should Attend

- Legal-function leaders responsible for strategy, resources, and enterprise alignment
- Senior counsel responsible for executive advice, governance, and material matters
- Legal operations functions responsible for workflow, data, technology, and performance
- Corporate governance functions responsible for board information and decision support
- Executives responsible for oversight of legal services, risk, and organizational resilience

The course assumes participants lead legal work, teams, budgets, or executive relationships and leaves out jurisdiction-specific advice and detailed specialist doctrine.

FAQs

Who suits general counsel strategy and leadership training, and what does it assume?

It suits senior in-house legal and operations leaders and assumes responsibility for legal work, people, budgets, governance, or executive relationships.

How does general counsel leadership differ from technical legal training?

General counsel leadership focuses on strategy, priorities, resources, operations, people, executive advice, and crisis readiness, while technical legal training develops doctrine or specialist practice knowledge.

How should a general counsel align legal strategy with enterprise priorities?

Alignment starts by mapping enterprise outcomes, legal mandates, material risks, stakeholder expectations, decision rights, resources, and measures into a shared planning and review cycle.

Which measures support legal function leadership?

Useful measures connect demand, matter priority, cycle time, cost, service quality, risk exposure, capacity, external counsel, and business outcomes without reducing legal judgment to activity counts.

What makes board legal advice decision-ready?

Decision-ready board advice states the issue, enterprise context, legal and operational exposure, options, tradeoffs, recommended action, authority required, and follow-up controls in concise language.

Conclusion

Participants leave with a Legal Function Leadership Plan linking mandate, priorities, matters, resources, operations, people, executive advice, and crisis readiness. The plan creates a shared basis for legal-function decisions and performance conversations. It also helps leaders turn legal expertise into organized enterprise support.
