Hotel Guest Relations Management Training Course

Ref: 1581_216569 Date: 29 November – 3 December 2026 Location: Chicago Fees: 12000 Euro

Overview

Hotel Guest Relations Management Training Course is a one-week intermediate programme for hospitality professionals responsible for proactive guest engagement across the stay lifecycle. Participants design consistent recognition, preference use, pre-arrival planning, welcome, in-stay contact, special-occasion support, VIP protocols, digital communication, interdepartmental coordination, feedback intelligence, and post-stay continuity. The course distinguishes relationship management from complaint handling by concentrating on anticipation, personalisation governance, and sustained connection. Each participant leaves with a Guest Relations Management Plan. Agile Leaders Training Center provides this course to strengthen thoughtful and discreet guest relationships.

Frequently Asked Questions

Is this a complaint-handling course?

No. It focuses on proactive relationship design, recognition, personalisation, coordination, and continuity rather than reactive service recovery.

Does personalisation mean recording every guest detail?

No. The course emphasises relevance, privacy, consent, discretion, and controlled access to useful information.

Is the course limited to luxury hotels?

No. Its principles can be adapted to different hotel types and service levels that use structured guest relations.

Conclusion

Participants finish able to design proactive, discreet, and coordinated guest relationships across the stay lifecycle using an integrated Guest Relations Management Plan.
