Legal Secretary Practice and Matter Administration Training Course

Ref: 1764_232635 Date: 3 – 7 May 2027 Location: Lisbon Fees: 5700 Euro

Course Overview

The Legal Secretary Practice and Matter Administration Training Course develops the operational discipline needed to support lawyers and legal teams without crossing into legal advice. Participants build workflows for legal secretary practice and matter administration, from intake and conflict-check information through document production, court filing, diary control, client communication, billing support, closure, and archiving. The practical learning experience is delivered by Agile Leaders Training Center.

The course combines legal document preparation and quality control with legal diary and deadline management, legal matter file administration, and client confidentiality and privilege awareness through applied checklists, registers, templates, and exercises.

Who Should Attend

Frequently Asked Questions

Is a legal secretary the same as a company or board secretary?

No. This course supports legal matters, documents, deadlines, clients, and office workflows, not corporate governance or board administration.

Can a legal secretary give legal advice?

No. Participants support authorised legal professionals, maintain role boundaries, and escalate substantive legal questions.

How are court and filing deadlines controlled?

Through a verified deadline register, reminders, responsibility assignments, filing evidence, escalation points, and contingency actions.

How are confidentiality and privilege handled?

Through need-to-know access, secure handling, recipient checks, communication controls, incident escalation, and privilege awareness.

What does the final administration file contain?

It combines intake records, a document pack, deadline controls, file index, communication records, and billing-support checks.

Conclusion

Participants leave with a practical, repeatable administration system that improves accuracy, confidentiality, timeliness, and service across legal matters.
