Corporate Litigation Portfolio and Case Management Training Course

Ref: 1766_232738 Date: 16 – 20 November 2026 Location: Tokyo Fees: 10000 Euro

Course Overview

The Corporate Litigation Portfolio and Case Management Training Course equips in-house teams to govern multiple disputes as a controlled business portfolio. Participants build a practical system for corporate litigation portfolio and case management, from intake and strategy through procedure, evidence, counsel, cost, settlement, trial readiness, outcome review, and closure. The applied learning experience is delivered by Agile Leaders Training Center.

The course integrates litigation intake and early case assessment, outside counsel and litigation budget management, discovery evidence and legal hold coordination, and litigation risk reserve and executive reporting. It focuses on management and governance rather than courtroom advocacy, construction claims, or jurisdiction-specific legal advice.

Who Should Attend

- In-house counsel and litigation managers
- Legal operations and dispute-management professionals
- Claims leaders and senior paralegals
- Professionals overseeing outside counsel and multiple disputes

Course Objectives

- Apply consistent intake, triage, ownership, conflict, and preservation controls.
- Translate legal and business objectives into case strategy, milestones, and decision rights.
- Control procedural calendars, discovery, evidence, experts, vendors, and trial readiness.
- Select, instruct, monitor, and evaluate outside counsel against agreed guidelines.
- Build phase-based budgets, review fees, forecast exposure, and escalate variance.
- Report risk, reserves, settlement options, portfolio trends, and lessons to decision-makers.

Frequently Asked Questions

Is this a courtroom advocacy course?

No. It teaches corporate oversight, portfolio governance, case controls, counsel management, and business decision support.

Is it limited to one jurisdiction?

No. Participants learn transferable controls and must map them to applicable procedural rules, court orders, professional duties, and local advice.

How are legal holds and discovery handled?

The course covers governance and coordination: triggers, custodians, sources, preservation, collection, review, production, documentation, and escalation.

How are outside-counsel costs controlled?

Through scoped instructions, approved staffing, phase budgets, assumptions, accruals, billing rules, variance thresholds, and outcome reviews.

What is included in the final control pack?

It contains intake, assessment, strategy, calendar, evidence, counsel, budget, risk, settlement, reporting, and closure controls.

Conclusion

Participants leave with a repeatable operating system for timely, cost-conscious, risk-informed management of corporate litigation.
