Strategic Leadership and Performance Management Training Course Overview:

The Strategic Leadership and Performance Management Training Course equips leaders with the mindset, frameworks and practical tools needed to set a clear strategic direction and turn it into measurable results. Participants learn how to translate vision into strategic objectives, align teams and resources behind priorities, and build a performance management system based on meaningful KPIs, OKRs and the Balanced Scorecard. The course also covers leading change, making decisions under uncertainty, coaching for performance, and creating a high-performance culture that sustains improvement over time.

Target Audience:

- Senior Executives and Directors
- Department Heads and Middle Managers
- Strategy and Planning Professionals
- Performance and Excellence Officers
- Team Leaders Preparing for Senior Roles
- HR and Organisational Development Managers

Participants will learn to connect strategic thinking with day-to-day leadership and to drive performance across teams and functions.

Targeted Organizational Departments:

- Executive Management
- Strategy and Planning
- Institutional Excellence and Performance
- Human Resources
- Operations

This course supports departments responsible for setting direction, monitoring performance and leading organisational improvement.

Targeted Industries:

- Government and Public Sector

How This Course is Different from Other Strategic Leadership Courses:

Unlike leadership courses that focus only on personal skills or only on strategy, this course connects strategic leadership directly to measurable performance. Participants move from vision and strategy to KPIs, OKRs and the Balanced Scorecard, then to practical improvement and change leadership. Every participant leaves with a personal leadership plan and a ready-to-use performance improvement plan for their own organisation.
